DETAILED ACTION

- Response to the applicant's amendment dated 12/19/2006
- Amended claims 1-20 have been submitted for examination
- Amended claims 1-20 have been rejected

Drawings Objections

1. In view of the applicant amended drawings filed on 12/19/2006; all objections to the drawings are withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. In view of the applicant-amended claim 12, all objections to the claim rejections under section 35 USC § 101 are withdrawn.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on 12/19/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
4. The Examiner disagrees with the applicant's argument on page 16, lines (17-27) that (emphasis added):

"In contradistinction, the invention of the Application includes a comparator unit that provides a positive comparison not only for identical addresses, but for addresses having one of a plurality of selected characteristics. Among the plurality of selected characteristics is, for example, the touching requirement.

This requirement is not only discussed in the Specification, but Figs. 5A, 5B and 5C illustrate the requirement. Applicant is unable to find any indication of this type of non-identity requirement in the Swaine reference."

The Examiner notes that Swaine in section [0022] teaches (emphasis added):

"[0022] As an alternative to providing context identifier comparators separately to the address comparators, it is also possible that address comparators can be arranged to be used as context identifier comparators in certain modes of operation. Accordingly, in accordance with one embodiment of the present invention, the apparatus comprises a plurality of said address comparators, at least one of the address comparators including mode change logic to enable that address comparator to be used as said context identifier comparator to generate an output used to condition the output signal from another of said address comparators. Preferably, the mode change logic comprises a multiplexer arranged to receive an address and a context identifier provided within the data received from the processing circuit, and to select the context identifier if the address comparator is to be used as a context identifier comparator."

Therefore, Swaine's invention anticipates the instant invention that includes a comparator unit that provides a positive comparison not only for identical addresses, but for addresses having one of a plurality of selected characteristics by mode change the context identifier to condition the address output comparators for having a plurality of selected characteristics.

5. The Examiner disagrees with the applicant and maintains the rejection of claims (1-20) as in the office action filed on 12/19/2006. All the amendments and arguments have been considered. It is the Examiner's conclusion that claims (1-20) is not patentably distinct or non-obvious over the prior art of record in view of the reference, Swaine. Therefore the rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
